

The John Smith's Bookshop at the University of Glasgow

is proud to be a part of

Academic Book Week (9th - 13th November)

Launch night
MONDAY 9TH NOVEMBER
5:30PM - 8:00PM

All guests will receive
20% OFF ALL BOOKS*
+ FREE WINE AND NIBBLES

On the night we will be showcasing an exhibition about John Smith's heritage and historical connection to the city of Glasgow

*Excludes selected items and items already discounted

EVENT LIST

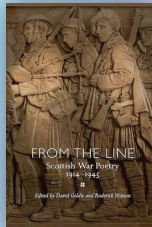

Tuesday 10th November 5:30pm-8pm

Journalist and broadcaster Iain Macwhirter joins us for the launch of his new book on Scottish politics, Tsunami: Scotland's Democratic Revolution

Wednesday 11th November 5:30pm-8pm

A celebration of Edwin Morgan's contribution to Scottish war poetry for Armistice Day, led by Morgan's biographer James McGonigal.

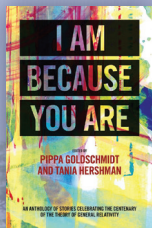

Thursday 12th November 5:30pm-8pm

Professor of Creative Writing, Louise Welsh, discusses her recent novels and editing a new anthology of supernatural stories, Ghost.

Friday 13th November 5:30pm-8pm

We mark the hundredth anniversary of Einstein's General Theory of Relativity with the Glasgow launch of the physics-inspired short story collection, I Am Because You Are, co-edited by author and astronomer, Pippa Goldschmidt.

johnsmith.co.uk/gla

This is an ideal opportunity to get to know your local university bookshop, whether you're university staff, a student, or member of the public.